 - ▶ Justo Gonzalez: “We must pause to do justice to the Pharisees, so badly misunderstood in later times. The fact is that the New Testament attacks them, not because they were worse than other Jews, but because they were the best.... Seeing them attacked in the New Testament, we tend to consider them simply a group of the worst kind of hypocrites, but here we err in our interpretation....”

“Contrary to what we often imagine, the Pharisees emphasized the importance of personal religion.... At a time when the vitality of Temple worship was on the wane, the Pharisees strove to interpret the Law in such a way that it might serve as a daily guide for the religion of the people. Naturally, this led them into the legalism that has made them objects of so much criticism...”
